Bringing Funding to Watersheds

The screenshot shows a web browser window titled "Catalog of Federal Funding Sources for Watershed Protection". The address bar shows "http://www.epa.gov/watershedfunding". The left sidebar contains links: Home, Other Funding Sources, How to Use this Site, Complete List of All Programs, Programs Listed by Keyword, and Administration * (requires login). The main content area has the title "Catalog of Federal Funding Sources for Watershed Protection" and a description: "The Catalog of Federal Funding Sources for Watershed Protection Web site is a searchable database of financial assistance sources (grants, loans, cost-sharing) available to fund a variety of watershed protection projects. To select funding programs for particular requirements, use either of two searches below. One is based on subject matter criteria, and the other is based on words in the title of the funding program." Below this, it states: "Criteria searches include the type of organization (e.g., non-profit groups, private landowner, state, business), type of assistance sought (grants or loans), and keywords (e.g., agriculture, wildlife habitat)." and "Searches result in a listing of programs by name. Click on each program name to review detailed information on the funding source." The search interface includes four numbered steps: 1. Type of Assistance: Select All, Grants, Loans. 2. Eligible Organization: Select All, Business, Community/Watershed Group. 3. Match Required: Select All, Yes, No. 4. Keywords: A grid of checkboxes for various topics including Air Quality/Deposition, Agriculture, Best Management Practices, Coastal Waters, Drinking water, Economic Development, Enforcement/Compliance, Outreach/Education, Partnerships, Point Source Control, Planning, Pollution Prevention, Research, and Restoration.

About the Web site

This searchable Web site updates EPA's Catalog of Federal Funding Sources for Watershed Protection (Second Edition) printed in 1999 (EPA 841-B-99-003). This Web site does not present sources that offer only technical assistance. In addition, it also does not contain information about small, site-specific federal sources or non-federal sources. EPA's Office of Water will be updating the Web site on an ongoing basis.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has developed a searchable, interactive Web site to support watershed stakeholders' efforts to secure funding to implement watershed protection projects.

- The Web site offers users access to a database of approximately 100 programs offering financial assistance (grants, loans, cost-sharing) specially geared towards watershed-related projects.
- Users input their program specifications and/or topic keywords to generate a list of funding programs for which they are eligible. The list is hyperlinked to detailed information on each program.
- Users can also browse through a complete listing of programs, or click on a specific keyword to browse a list of programs associated with the keyword.

Other Funding Sources:

The Web site provides users with an extensive listing of public and private sector sources, such as publications and funding-related Web sites that might help secure additional sources of funding. Click the "Other Funding Sources" link to check it out.
